EVERGREENS

High quality evergreens are our speciality. Plan to visit our Garden Center today and discuss your evergreen planting problems with us. Figure immediately following the name of the evergreen in our list indicates eventual height.

HELPFUL HINTS

Evergreens can be planted all year, as long as the ground is not frozen and the evergreens are of the proper quality, properly dug, and balled and burlapped.

To plant evergreens dig a hole at least one foot larger in diameter than the soil ball diameter. Set plant in hole at same depth as it grew in the nursery, then fill hole $\frac{3}{4}$ full of good top soil. If soil is poor, mix $\frac{1}{3}$ peat-moss with $\frac{2}{3}$ soil. Tamp soil firmly to hold tree in position. Ring one handful of fertilizer around ball on tamped soil (Agrico LTS or Broadleaf Evergreen fertilizer is excellent) then fill balance of hole with water.

When the water has soaked in, fill hole with top soil and tamp lightly leaving a slight basin around evergreen. Cover surface with peat-moss, ground marble or buck wheat hull mulch to catch rain water and conserve moisture. When several evergreens are planted, such as in a foundation planting, the entire planting area should be edged with a spade and then mulched.

Evergreens should be pruned at least once a year. Light pruning can be done at anytime of the year. Heavy pruning should be done from February 15 to March 31. (Exception: Christmas tree type evergreens, i.e., spruces and pines are best pruned in June or July.) Fertilize evergreens once every year from February 15 to June 30. Agrico LTS or Broadleaf Evergreen fertilizers are excellent.

BROADLEAF EVERGREENS

Indispensable in landscape practice, for use in shady locations, and to blend with evergreens and shrubs, we offer the following list of species, and varieties, which we have found most satisfactory in this locality.

HELPFUL HINTS

The same basic planting procedure may be used in planting Broadleaf evergreens as were used in planting needle type evergreens. See page 5.

However; there are a few extra things to bear in mind. If you are planting broadleaf evergreens in the fall of the year, be very careful not to over fertilize for this will cause winter damage. The best rule to follow when planting broadleaf evergreens in the fall is to reduce the dosage of fertilizer ½ the normal amount and to follow a much more intensive watering program for the first few weeks (Do not keep roots continuously wet or they will rot).

Also, try to place Broadleaf material in the best possible location; which is due North — North west of variations thereof. Place them out of the wind if at all possible.

Azaleas and Rhododendrons

For azaleas and rhododendrons follow the same procedure as above; however, remember azaleas and rhododendrons absolutely require an acid soil. Use ⅓ to ½ peat-moss mixed with soil in the planting bed. After plants have bloomed, remove faded blooms or bloom head. Azaleas are best pruned right after blooming, before they set bloom buds. Rhododendrons can be kept more compact by removing the terminal growth buds in April. Fertilize both azaleas and rhododendrons with an acid type fertilizer such as Agrico for Broadleaf Evergreens. Do not cultivate around plants, otherwise you will disturb their shallow root system.

SHADE TREES

Trees act as a frame for your home. Their types and sizes depend on the size of your home and the planting location. Keep in mind their size at maturity in order to produce the desired shade and landscape effect. The figure immediately following the name of the tree in our list indicates the approximate height at maturity.

HELPFUL HINTS

In planting shade trees always prune back at least $\frac{1}{3}$ of each branch except the top or "leader" branch, which is not pruned. If bare root, prune off any damaged roots. Dig a hole at least one foot larger in diameter than the root or soil ball diameter.

Place tree in hole at level grown in nursery, then fill hole $\frac{3}{4}$ full of good topsoil. If soil is poor mix $\frac{1}{3}$ peat-moss $\frac{2}{3}$ soil. Tamp soil firmly to hold tree in position, fertilize around tree and then fill remainder of hole with water. When water has soaked in, fill balance of hole with topsoil and tamp lightly leaving slight basin around tree and cover surface with peat-moss or buckwheat hull mulch to catch rain water and conserve moisture. Cover trunk of tree with tree wrap and guy with stakes and wire wrapped with hose (available at our garden center). If a dry season follows planting, water just once a week or more often if necessary.

Shade trees can be properly pruned and trimmed the year round. Fertilize from February 15 to June 30. Agrico LTS is excellent.

Unless otherwise indicated, prices are for bare root trees. Add \$.75 to bare root prices if tubbed in $\frac{1}{2}$ bu. basket or equivalent; \$1.00 in 1 bu. basket or equivalent. See B&B price schedule on last page of catalog for additional charge if tree is to be balled and burlapped.

FLOWERING SHRUBS

HELPFUL HINTS

Most of our shrubs are sold either balled and burlapped or already planted in tar paper pots or baskets, and can be planted without risk of transplanting shock. (The roots of bare plants should not be exposed to sun, wind or freezing temperatures before planting. Also, prune off portion of roots that are broken or bruised.)

Dig a hole at least one foot larger in diameter than the diameter of the ball, pot or basket, or root spread (if bare rooted). Place shrub in hole at same depth as it was planted in the nursery, then fill the hole $\frac{3}{4}$ full of good top soil. If soil is poor, mix $\frac{1}{3}$ peat-moss with $\frac{2}{3}$ soil. Tamp soil firmly to hold shrub in position. If bare root, make sure that soil completely surrounds each root. Put $\frac{1}{2}$ handful of fertilizer around plant on tamped in soil and fill the balance of the hole with water. When the water has soaked in, fill hole with top soil and tamp lightly leaving a slight basin around shrub and cover surface with peat-moss or buck wheat hull mulch to catch rain water and conserve moisture. Prune back $\frac{1}{3}$ of each branch after it is planted, if pruning has not all ready been done. If a dry season follows planting, water heavily once a week or more often if necessary.

Flowering shrubs can be properly pruned and trimmed throughout the year. The best practice is to cut $\frac{1}{4}$ or $\frac{1}{3}$ of the largest canes. Cut just above ground level. Many gardeners delay pruning until right after shrubs bloom, thereby, avoiding the sacrificing of any blooms in the spring. For severe pruning of overgrown shrubs, it's best to wait until winter or early spring, when the plant is dormant. Fertilizing should be done between February 15 and June 30. Agrico Lawn, Trees, and Shrubs fertilizer is excellent..

The figure immediately following the name indicates the approximate height at maturity.

HEDGE PLANTS

We carry the following hedge plants which we consider the best of the more popular varieties.

HELPFUL HINTS

When planting hedge material refer to the planting procedures used in planting deciduous flowering shrubs. The same basic principles hold true with one main exception. The hedge material should be pruned back at least two thirds, this will enable the hedge to fill in close to the ground and will be an excellent forerunner for a well-formed hedge. Set privet and similar varieties 6 to 12 inches apart; for a thick hedge, plants can be staggered on 1 foot centers. Set barberry and similar tall bushy shrubs 1 to 1½ feet apart.

BARBERRY, GREEN - 4' Berberis thunbergi Widely used thorny hedge plant, standing shade and drought. Scarlet leaves and bright red berries in fall.

VINES and GROUND COVERS

HELPFUL HINTS

One of the basic rules to remember when planting a slope or bank in ground cover is to plant no more than one foot centers; however if at all possible eight inch centers are much more desirable. The bank or slope area should be prepared in the following manner; strip all sod and weeds, till all soil to a depth of four to six inches, or if the soil is in poor condition add peat moss or sand in proportion of two to one. If soil is completely undesirable, top soil should be added and mixed with undesirable soil at the rate of two to one. On completion of preparation, the bare rooted material should be taken in small handfulls so as not to expose the roots of the large bundle to wind and sun damage. If using ground cover grown in clay pots pay particular attention not to break established root system when removing from the pot. Insert the root system in a hole that is twice the size of the root system, fill, firmly tamp and apply fertilizer. When complete planting is done, a mist watering system or light spray should be applied at hourly intervals so as to soak the ground thoroughly and not cause washing. In the event the bank is an extreme slope, the use of straw as an erosion and moisture retainer may be used. If the bank is a gentle slope, peat moss may be used as a moisture retainer. Intensive fertilization and watering will insure a quick coverage of planted material. Consult Dieckmann's staff of gardeners for proper planting and fertilization program.

FRUIT TREES

All of our fruit trees are soil-balled in enriched top soil to prevent transplanting shock and insure sturdy growth. The slight additional cost is well worth the difference.

HELPFUL HINTS

In planting fruit trees follow the same procedure as for shade trees; however, to insure cross pollination plant two varieties of the same fruit. To assure high yield, and disease-free fruit, spray fruit trees in late winter with a dormant spray and with a good orchard spray at least at petal fall time.

APPLES

LODI (IMPROVED YELLOW TRANSPARENT) — Yellow, bears young and early, extremely hardy. Summer variety.

RED DELICIOUS—Red. Winter variety. Outstanding variety for table use.

RED McINTOSH—Red. Winter variety. Hardy, bears young and annually. Very tender and juicy.

STAYMAN'S WINESAP—Purplish red. Winter variety. More-or-less self-sterile. Bears early.

BERRY BUSHES

HELPFUL HINTS

STRAWBERRIES—Most popular berries; grow in light well-drained soils. Different varieties extend harvesting season. Plant early. Never cover crown of plant with soil when planting. Pick blossoms first season. New easy weed killers control weed problems.

RASPBERRIES—Plant 3-4 ft. apart in rows 6 ft. apart. Cut back to 6" when planted. Do not let any fruit set first year. BLACK—Most popular. Important for health of plant to remove all old canes at the end of the growing season. RED—Good for freezing. Do not plant near black varieties.

GRAPES—Grapes can be trained on low fence or arbor. Prune in February or early March. For large bunches prune last year's growth to 2 to 4 eyes; for larger yield more of old growth may be kept.

BLUEBERRIES—Becoming more popular. Require acid soil and at least two varieties for pollination.

STANDARD STRAWBERRIES

SURE CROP—Mid-season. Very vigorous. Good in our climate.

CATSKILL—Vigorous plants. Large berries. Very heavy yield.

PREMIER—This is the nearest to a sure thing in Strawberries. Frost resistant, early, heavy yielder.

ROBINSON—Ripens after Premier. Berries large, brilliant red. Vigorous grower.

VERMILLION—One of the best mid-season berries.

25 for $1.35; 50 for $2.25; 100 for $3.75;

GRAPES

CONCORD—Dark blue, most popular variety.

Two year, No. 1 plants.

$.55 each; 3 for $1.50; 10 for $4.00

BLUEBERRIES

Two of the most popular varieties: Rubel, and Stanley. Require an acid soil (apply Aluminum Sulphate). At least two varieties should be planted to insure cross pollination. 3 yr. plants, growing in peat in tar paper pots.

18-24" (3 yr.) 2.25 each

ROSES

PLANT POTTED ROSES
GUARANTEED TO GROW AND BLOOM THIS JUNE

We make a continuous study of Rose varieties, new and old, and list only those varieties best adapted to local growing conditions. All are Northern grown. Finest bushes available in their size and variety.

To assure you better and healthier plants, all of our roses are potted and growing in enriched soil. Plant pot and all. Paper mache pot will disintegrate readily and rose will become established faster without any transplanting shock. Each rose bush is guaranteed 100% through its first growing season, until August 1.

DIECKMANN'S ROSE CARE PROGRAM

Three practical ways to better roses with less care.

- 1st Mulch with Buckwheat hulls or other suitable mulch.

This practically eliminates weeding and cuts watering down to a minimum.

Mulching discourages black spot which can be spread from water splashing on bare soil.

- 2nd Feed with balanced rose food; liquid, dry or both. We have tested and recommend the best brands of rose food. If roses are not satisfactory let us test your soil and make necessary recommendations.

- 3rd Spraying or dusting.

If you prefer spraying and the garden hose is accessible use the sprayette. If this isn't practical the Hydro-Gun will do an excellent job.

(see page 52)

Dusting—If you have under 10 roses the squeeze duster is ideal.

(see page 49)

If you have 10 to 200 roses the New Zephyr duster is ideal—It is light weight, easy to operate and above all does an excellent job.

(see page 45)

By following our program you will have abundant, bigger and more beautiful roses.

HARDY PERENNIALS

Our two year old blooming size perennials are individually potted or packaged eliminating transplanting shock and drying out of roots.

HELPFUL HINTS

For packaged perennials, follow planting directions shown on the package. For potted perennials, dig a hole twice the size of the pot; plant perennials at same depth as it is planted in tar pot. Plant pot and all, or if you prefer, remove the pot carefully so as not to disturb the roots. Fill the hole with good soil, tamp in lightly, and water very thoroughly.

Exception: Oriental Poppies should be planted about one inch higher than normal to avoid "crown rot".

Spring and summer: Mulching with Buck wheat hulls greatly reduces weeding and watering.

Winter: Mulching with straw or evergreen branches (from Christmas trees), not leaves, will help protect your perennials and assist in bringing them through the winter in good condition.

Perennials should be fertilized at least once a year from February 15 to June 30. When plants become over grown, they should be dug up, divided, and re-planted in early spring.

FERTILIZERS

The following fertilizers are used by us in our greenhouses and landscape work. You can be sure of their performance. For lawns, we highly recommend using fertilizer containing ORGANIC nitrogen, which is longer lasting and less apt to burn the grass than farm or straight chemical fertilizer. Ask for special prices on large quantities.

1 bale Unmilled	5.00

TOP SOIL

Unfortunately top soil is becoming more difficult to obtain each year. The top soil we offer is used successfully in our greenhouses and landscaping work. Although it often does not have the dark color nor medium texture customarily associated with top soil in years gone by, this does not seriously detract from its usefulness for lawns or general planting.

INTRODUCING THE NEWEST PROGRAM IN GARDEN CARE — "GREENFIELD"

Dieckmann's is pleased to recommend to our customers a new line of quality lawn and garden products that will make gardening and lawn care easier and more rewarding than ever before. These products are packaged under the brand name of "Greenfield", and are manufactured and distributed by Elanco Products, a Division of Eli Lilly and Company.

Eli Lilly and Company has been in business over 86 years and is the largest pharmaceutical firm in the U. S. Their new garden line is consistent with their reputation for quality and superiority. Due to their tremendous research program, Lilly scientists have a back log of over 37,000 new and different chemicals which they are screening for possible use in the field of planting science. In addition their laboratories are producing new compounds at a rate of over 2000 per year, giving them a decided advantage in the formulation of useful new lawn and garden products.

Lilly's present "Greenfield" line has been on the market over a year and already shows excellent results and we feel that with proper application they will give you a finer lawn and garden with fewer hours of work.
